THE PROGRAM IN FULL - STAGE

Welcome Dinner

Eli Lilly — Treating the Whole Person: A Modern Blueprint for Weight Management

Novo Nordisk — A Fresh Change: Introducing Weight Management to support your patients

Business sessions

Megan Reid, Fresh Clinics — Fresh Insights to Help You Grow, from our State of Medical Aesthetics findings

Megan shares key findings from Fresh's State of Medical Aesthetics research — real insights on what's really happening across the industry, and what it means for your business.

Dr Cara McDonald, Complete Skin Specialists — Why Consultation Skills Matter

The presentation introduces the Cosmetic Consultation Course and explains why practical consultation skills are one of the most important, yet under-taught, areas of aesthetic practice. It will cover why the course was developed, how it helps injectors build trust, set expectations, present comprehensive treatment plans, manage difficult patients and improve treatment acceptance. Attendees will also gain practical strategies they can use immediately to increase patient satisfaction, support business growth and reduce the emotional fatigue associated with challenging consultations.

Emma Tod & Sam Leese, Growth Box — A System That Runs Without You

When you're running a clinic, marketing often becomes a cycle of briefing, waiting, chasing, and starting again. Growth Box gives you a system that runs without you in the loop — for the bits that should be in a system.

Franziska Iseli, Fresh Clever Bunch — Marketing 101: Understanding Marketing & Building Your Brand

What actually is marketing, and how do you make it your own? Franziska breaks marketing down to first principles — what it is, why it matters, and how to start building a brand that's authentically yours. A grounding session for anyone who wants to stop outsourcing their marketing and start thinking like a marketer.

Jade Spehr, JadeStart — The Treasure Hunt: Finding the Hidden Money in Your Business

Most aesthetic businesses are sitting on a fortune they cannot see. In this interactive Treasure Hunt, Jade Spehr reveals exactly where profit hides across five areas of your business: your team, client journey, marketing, operations and cost management. You will leave with a map to your own hidden money and a clear first step to recover it.

Open Audience, Q&A — Business deep dive

Bring your questions straight to the people who just presented. Megan, Franziska, Jade, and the Growth Box team stay on stage to go deeper on anything raised in the business sessions — pricing, marketing, systems, or whatever's actually keeping you up at night. No question too small, and no polished answers prepared in advance.

Off-label live demonstrations

Sculptra® for abdominal skin laxity — a collagen-stimulating approach
Off-label clinical use · body

Skin laxity is showing up in clinic more than ever — driven by GLP-1 weight loss and, as always, post-pregnancy change. This session explores poly-L-lactic acid (Sculptra) beyond the face, applied to the abdomen as a collagen-stimulating option for patients who want firmer, better-quality skin without surgery. The session covers:

- Why abdominal laxity is rising, with GLP-1 medications and pregnancy as the leading drivers
- Mechanism of action — how PLLA stimulates the patient's own collagen over time
- Composition, reconstitution and preparation for body treatment
- Injection depth, plane and dosing for the abdomen
- Patient selection and setting realistic expectations across a treatment course
- Safety, technique and adverse-event awareness

Restoring the dorsal hand with Croma Revitalis — a cannula approach
Off-label clinical use · hands

The hands give age away faster than almost anywhere, yet they're often left out of the treatment plan. This session takes a practical, evidence-led look at Saypha Rich (formerly Croma Rich) — a glycerol-stabilised, non-cross-linked hyaluronic acid — for improving skin quality across the back of the hands. The focus is honest outcomes: smoother, softer, better-hydrated, less crepey skin, delivered via cannula for comfort and safety. This session covers:

- Why the dorsal hand ages early — dermal thinning, subcutaneous atrophy, photoageing and structural prominence
- Where a hydrating bioremodeller fits, and how it differs from a volumiser
- Product composition and mechanism, and how to talk about it accurately with patients and peers
- The safe dorsal plane and relevant anatomy — veins, extensor tendons and the tissue you're targeting
- Cannula technique step-by-step, and why it's the safer, more comfortable choice here
- Patient selection, absolute contraindications and relative cautions
- Treatment course, expected results and realistic before-and-afters
- Aftercare and red-flag symptoms

Layered Neck Rejuvenation
Off-label clinical use · neck & lower face

The neck never ages for just one reason. A two-stage, single-session framework — intradermal toxin with PRP for skin quality, then precise intramuscular work on the platysma, jawline and DAO to release downward pull. Technique over products, with patient selection, depth control and cervical risk awareness throughout.

Evolus — Precision in practice: mastering Nuceiva

A 70-minute interactive Nuceiva workshop built around new data, case studies and practical clinical insights. The session will combine a focused review of Nuceiva data with practical discussion on anatomy, patient assessment and consultation, followed by expert video perspective and ambassador-led case discussion. Designed to be engaging and immediately useful, the workshop will give delegates practical insights they can apply in consultation, assessment and treatment planning with Nuceiva.

Galderma — Medication-driven weight loss for advanced injectors

The rise of medication-driven weight loss (MDWL) is creating new opportunities and challenges for aesthetic practitioners. Patients experiencing rapid weight loss often present with distinct facial changes that require a tailored assessment and treatment approach. This workshop will provide practical, clinically relevant guidance to help practitioners confidently manage the growing demand for aesthetic treatments during and after rapid weight loss. During the first 25 minutes, participants will explore how rapid weight loss differs from traditional weight loss from both an anatomical and aesthetic perspective. The session will examine the effects of rapid weight loss on facial structure, volume distribution, skin quality, and body aesthetics, while introducing different patient profiles commonly encountered in the MDWL setting. Attendees will gain insights into consultation strategies, patient expectations, treatment planning, and long-term management, supported by the latest data and emerging clinical protocols. The second 45 minutes will focus on practical application through a live treatment demonstration. Participants will observe treatment approaches designed to address volume loss and facial changes associated with rapid weight loss, while discussing patient selection, treatment sequencing, and techniques aimed at achieving natural, balanced outcomes. Key Learning Outcomes

- Understand how rapid weight loss differs from traditional weight loss and its aesthetic implications.
- Recognise the impact of rapid weight loss on facial structure, volume distribution and skin quality.
- Identify different MDWL patient profiles and adapt consultation approaches accordingly.
- Manage patient expectations and develop personalised treatment plans.
- Apply current evidence, emerging data & clinical protocols when planning aesthetic treatments during & after rapid weight loss.
- Observe practical injection techniques and treatment strategies for managing aesthetic concerns associated with MDWL.

Hugel — Hugel 360: anatomy-led treatment planning

This practical session explores how anatomical assessment informs effective treatment planning. Participants will learn a structured approach to facial assessment, patient consultation and treatment design to support predictable, natural-looking outcomes. The workshop includes a 35-minute presentation on key anatomical considerations and treatment planning principles, followed by a live patient consultation and a 25-minute treatment demonstration showcasing the application of these concepts in clinical practice.

Learning Objectives:

- Understand the anatomical considerations that influence treatment planning.
- Develop a systematic approach to facial assessment and patient consultation.
- Explore how anatomy, patient goals and product selection shape treatment decisions.

Attendees will gain early access to Toskani's latest regenerative technologies, TKN HA3 and Lumicen™ 3% PDRN, exploring their role within modern treatment planning, treatment sequencing and combination therapy strategies for skin quality and regeneration. Participants will leave with practical skills, increased confidence in treatment selection and a practical framework they can immediately implement in clinic.

Allergan — AA Signature™ Lift Up - Three forces, one lifted look

The conversation around lifting is changing — and this session places you at the center of it. Join us for an exclusive, live demonstration experience on AA Signature™ Lift Up, Allergan Aesthetics’ integrated approach for patients seeking more structure, refined definition, and natural-looking lift. This session brings together three powerful treatment principles into one curated protocol designed to deliver results that are both clinically grounded and visually impactful. In this session, you will explore how to:

- Master HArmonyCa® Lidocaine — the world’s first dual-action biostimulator, combining immediate volumisation with progressive collagen stimulation. Gain a deeper understanding of not only how it works, but why it works, so you can confidently bring this conversation into your practice.
- Unlock the full potential of BOTOX® — now indicated across four cosmetic indications. With a focused deep dive into the platysma, you'll learn precision techniques that help visibly refine the lower face and enhance jawline definition.
- Integrate Juvéderm® Voluma® as the third force in the lifting trifecta — repositioning mid-face volume as a structural foundation within a protocol-driven treatment approach.
